ENROLLMENT LETTER

From your child's teacher: Hello Families! When I began my journey in education almost 15 years ago, I had no idea my path would lead me to where I am today! My background is diverse with experience teaching public school music and band, family-style early childhood music classes with children as young as 6 weeks old, teaching in a special education homebound tutoring setting, and working in special education with children aged 3 through 9. Currently, I am pursuing a Master's Degree in Special Education with an emphasis in early childhood where I should graduate in December 2023. I am a lifelong learner who is always searching for new and innovative ways to enrich the lives of my students' families. My family of five lives in Mackinaw. I believe it is important to find a good balance in my life, so when I have free time, I enjoy watching my children play travel league and school sports, tent camping, Scouting, church activities, and playing a variety of instruments.

As part of my passion for working with exceptional children, I recognize that no two children are exactly alike. There are nuances, strengths, and needs to be discovered and honored for each child. In our classroom this year, we will strive to create highly individualized content while we work on effective communication, fine and gross motor skills, emotional and sensory regulation, and establishing predictable routines all while showing the children that school is a safe and enjoyable place to be. In particular, my last 8 years in education have taught me the power of play-based learning, how to be attentive to the rise and fall of the energy in the classroom, and how to strike a balance between being both gentle and firm. You will see evidence of these things in our classroom. The things I am looking forward to the most about the upcoming year are the moments when we get to celebrate student growth. It is easy to get tunnel vision, only seeing areas where the children need to improve, so I make it a top priority to pause and recognize all successes, great and small! Most importantly, I recognize that the task of educating and caring for these young children is a team effort with families playing a crucial role.

From the program administrator: Thank you for your commitment to our program. This program is like no other that I'm aware of in Central, Illinois. The staff teaming, methodology, and low student to staff ratio has allowed us to reach every child in so many different ways. Our goal is and will continue to be to reach every child where they are at developmentally and build trust with our families, conveying that we love all of our students. Please take advantage of the Family Connection Days. These are designed to improve your understanding of your child's progress, share strategies that are successful at school, and plan events that are safe for every child to enjoy and attend, regardless of the severity of their disability.
